GETS SIXTY DAYS ON CHARGE OF BREACH OF PEACE

Claude Hampton, a young man who came here from Louisville several days ago to work at the government dam just above here, was given a sixty-day jail sentence by Judge Rice in County Court yesterday, the charge being breach of the peace. Hampton came from Louisville with several other men to work at the dam. Hampton was found hiding in Superintendent Armstrong's office at the dam Wednesday night, having broken in. The original charge against Hampton was house breaking, but was changed to breach of the peace, as one of the witnesses did not want to have to appear before the grand jury next month, as he will be in another part of the country. Hampton was unable to pay his fine and was taken to jail.

SUIT FILED

The Borderland Coal Sales Company, of Cincinnati, filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court yesterday against Mrs. Amelia Carr, Andrew Carr and Richard A. Carr, doing business as the Magnolia Flour Mills, asking judgment in the sum of $431.11, said to be due on coal purchased from the plaintiff.

CELEBRATING NINETY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Thomas, one of Maysville's oldest residents, is today quietly celebrating her ninety-sixth birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Gilbert, of Lexington avenue. In spite of her advanced age she is enjoying splendid health and can remember incidents that happened during the Black Hawk War.

Mrs. Thomas has lived to see five generations, she having great, grand, grandchildren.

ATTENDS MAYSVILLE FAIR

This morning's Huntington Herald-Dispatch says: Judge D. Ed Matthews, chairman of the war garden committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will attend the corn and tobacco fair at Maysville, Ky., today. A general invitation to Huntington citizens and Chamber of Commerce members to attend the fair was extended by Carl Dadds, secretary of the Maysville Chamber of Commerce.

GETS $50 FINE FOR SHIPPING LIQ- UOR IMPROPERLY LABELED

Fine Davis, colored, was tried in Police Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of shipping whiskey improperly labeled into prohibition territory, and pled guilty. Judge Whitaker fixed his fine at $50 and costs, which was paid. After the trial was over Davis asked that the whiskey be returned to him but the Court ruled that some other disposition would have to be made of it.

A real live Santa Claus will be at J. T. Kackley & Co.'s booth, No. 33, at the Corn and Tobacco Fair Saturday at 3 p. m. with gifts for the children.

GOVERNOR'S DAY

At the Corn and Tobacco Fair Today—Opening Day Yesterday Gives Promise That Fair Is Going to Be a Great Success—Bigger and Better than Last Year in Every Way.

GOVERNOR A. O. STANLEY

Today is Governor's Day at the Liberty Warehouse. Governor A. O. Stanley, in a message to Colonel Clarence L. Wood yesterday, stated that he would be here without fail. He arrived this morning and will speak at the fair at 1:30 o'clock.

Yesterday the big fair started off with a bang, although the weather was threatening. Escherger's band, of Cincinnati, arrived yesterday and delighted all with its splendid music yesterday.

All of the schools of the city and county were represented yesterday afternoon, it being Children's Day, and all children were admitted free. There was much regret and disappointment that Hon. V. O. Gilbert, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was unable to be present yesterday, but it is thought probable that he will accompany the Governor here today.

The vaudeville attractions yesterday afternoon and last night were high-class and up to the minute in every particular, showing that the managing committee has spared no pains to secure the best.

The booths are all tastefully and artistically decorated and there is no doubt but that the judges will have quite a job on their hands when they endeavor to award the prizes for the best booths. Announcement of the winners of the prizes for having the most attractive booths will be announced from the platform at the fair tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

There are many more exhibits than last year and are attracting quite a bit of attention, the women being interested in the sewing, fancy work, jellies, preserves and canned vegetables, while the men are looking with covetous eyes on the fine poultry, corn and other farm products.

Go out today and get in the swing. You are missing much if you are not attending the fair. The price of admission is 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. The management pays the war tax, so you need not worry about bringing any pennies.

PATRIOTIC WINDOW DISPLAY

If you want to see something novel, patriotic, artistic and beautiful, just take a glimpse at the North show window of the Dieterich flower store on Market street. Mr. Charles Dieterich is the artist and he has with the aid of chrysanthemums, carnations, violets, lilies and other flowers made the first two bars of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" to fit into an oblong background, the whole being a mass of red, white and blue flowers. The next time you are passing the Dieterich store, stop and take a look at this window.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE MEETS

The Mason County Woman Suffrage League met Thursday afternoon at the Public Library and elected the following delegates to the annual convention of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association to be held in Lexington, November 30 and December 1: Miss Mary A. Finch, Miss Alice Lloyd, Mrs. S. F. Reed, Mrs. N. S. Calhoun and Mrs. E. L. White.

BRITISH CASUALTIES

Less Than Number of Prisoners Captured—Halt's Troops Closing in on Cambrai.

London, November 22.—The British casualties in the advance toward Cambrai are reported to be considerably less than the number of prisoners taken. It was announced today by Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office.

The latest official estimate of prisoners taken gave the number as more than 8,000.

The British, said General Maurice, had advanced to a depth of six and one-half miles at the farthest point on a front of ten miles, which was a record advance in twenty-four hours on the western front, and was further than the progress made in three months fighting at Ypres.

The victory at Cambrai, General Maurice continued, was the direct result of the fighting at Ypres and therefore the men who fought at Ypres deserved equal credit for the Cambrai success.

The Italian situation, the General added, was more satisfactory than a week ago, but it was premature to say Venice was safe.

General Maurice announced that the operations in Palestine near Jerusalem, were continuing with complete success. The British troops still were six miles distant from Jerusalem fighting in the hills of Judea, he said, and it would be unwise to make any anticipatory statement regarding the fall of the city.

"We were able to give the Germans a surprise at Cambrai," said General Maurice, "because they had skinned this sector like they did along the remainder of the line, in order to prevent us from making Passchendaele. After we took Passchendaele they brought up a division from the Russian front in an effort to retake it."

"The fighting in the Cambrai operation is all in the open, enabling the cavalry to assist the tanks and infantry. There are no German defenses prepared in this sector, and their next line evidently is beyond Cambrai."

"The Ypres-Cambrai battles must be linked together, because the former made possible the latter, and the men who fought at Ypres deserve as much credit for the success at Cambrai. Our operations are continuing satisfactory."

"On the Italian front the chances of the Germans breaking through are diminishing hourly. The situation there is more satisfactory than it was a week ago, although it would be premature for me to say that Venice is safe.

"We have, however, reached the stage where there is every reason to have complete confidence in the situation."

"The Italians have been enabled to bring up guns, ammunition and supplies in ever-increasing quantities and every hour's time gained by them means a more favorable outlook. The time is drawing nearer when the Franco-British reinforcements will be brought into play."

The six mile wedge driven into the German defenses in the British offensive on the Arras-St. Quentin front is penetrating still deeper and spreading out. Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphs today. On some stretches of the front the British troops have broken into the enemy's final defense line. All the German counter attacks have been repulsed, all the British gains being held.

The prisoners taken in the advance now number more than 9,000 the corresponding reports.

FOCH

The appointment of Gen. Foch as representative of the allied war council in Italy has inspired new confidence in the Italian campaign. As long as this brilliant French strategist is in actual control of the Italian defensive operations, as he seems to be at present, there is hope that the German victory may be turned into defeat.

It was Foch, more than any other man, who won the battle of the Marne, and saved Europe from being overwhelmed by Prussian barbarism. The German drive into Italy has many points of resemblance to the great drive into France at the beginning of the war. If Gen. Foch can achieve another Marne at the Piave or the Adige, he will be the greatest living hero.

There is nothing impromptu or accidental about this general's success at the Marne, and subsequently at the Yser, where he frustrated the German drive against Calais. He is a man of the student type, professor of strategy and tactics in the Ecole de Guerre, the West Point of France. But he has the knack, rare in a student, of turning his theory into brilliant and decisive action at the crucial moment.

The man's fighting spirit may be inferred from this anecdote: During the battle of the Marne, one of his subordinates came to him in despair, saying, "General, we can do no more. My troops are worn out."

"So are the Germans," replied Foch. "Attack again!"

They did, and won. And the same spirit will win anywhere.

"AMERICAN NAMES"

A Chicago judge finds fault with the names of many of the men who come to him for naturalization, and insists that they take "American names." In pursuance of this policy, he is said to have transformed Jomini Delmosetz into "Joe White," and a certain Wl ocozski into simple "Weil."

But now the judge's critics are asking whether the names he bestowed are any more "American" than those they displaced. There are mighty few really American names in this country, and most of them are found on the map rather than in our citizenship lists. Most of us have come from some other country, at some time or other. We brought with us names belonging to other lands and races; and though we ourselves are transformed into Americans, the foreign names survive.

They're really all foreign except the Indian names. If they're English or Scotch or Irish they may sound more natural, but they're no more American for that. If we're going into this Americanization business on the Chicago plan, won't we have to change our whole system of nomenclature, and all assume such unmistakable American titles as Michigan, Kakota, Cohasset, Skowhegan, Wapiti, Unithah Tacoma and Kolsheshobogamog?

ADMISSION—TWO SHOES

When former ambassador Gerard spoke recently in San Francisco, no money admission was charged. But people didn't get in absolutely free. The admission price was a pair of serviceable shoes.

On the face of it that sounds like a costlier price than the ordinary money charges, even including the new war taxes on entertainment tickets. A good many people are hanging on to old but "serviceable" shoes, having them resoled and mended and wearing them to the very last. Still, there are a good many old shoes thrown out that might come under the classification of serviceable. Handing them over as the price of admission to a popular public lecture might be one very good way of rounding them up so that they may be turned over without delay to organizations sending such articles to destitute people in France and Belgium.

The custom might be extended further. Imagine the piles of reading material that would be collected if admission to Col. Roosevelt's talks was simply the presentation of a book or little bundle of magazines!

SICK WOMAN HAD CRYING SPELLS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Enhaut, Pa.—"I was all run down and weak inwardly. I had female troubles and nervous feelings and my head bothered me. I would often have crying spells and feel as if I was not safe. If I heard anyone coming I would run and lock the door so they would not see me. I tried several doctors and they did not help me so I said to my mother 'I guess I will have to die as there is no help for me.' She got me one of your little books and my husband said I should try one bottle. I stopped the doctor's medicine and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It soon made a change in me and now I am strong and do all my work."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS BAUMANN, Box 86, Enhaut, Pa.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

THAT BACKACHE SPELLS DANGER!

Action Today May Save Maysville People Future Misery.

A bad back isn't a bad thing if it serves as warning of hidden kidney disorders. Kidney diseases are frightfully common today. We over-do so much. We don't give the kidneys a chance to rest up, and while a bad back, some bladder disorder, an occasional dizzy spell or a persistent headache may be the only outward sign, the kidney trouble that is behind it all may be overlooked or neglected.

Put your signs to use. Take them as warnings. Fight off kidney weakness. It takes only a slight kidney disorder to start a case of fatal Bright's disease, from which 100,000 people die in the United States every year. Prompt treatment at first—that's all that's necessary to keep kidney weakness from turning into gravel, dropsy, gout, heart trouble or Bright's. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the oldest, the most widely used, the best-recommended Kidney Pills. Forty thousand Americans recommend them publicly. Here's one Maysville case:

Mrs. John Burns, W. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since." (Statement given February 13, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE

On November 15, 1916, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills today, as ever. I have not needed a kidney medicine since I took them."

Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Burns has twice publicly recommended—the remedy backed by home testimony. THE DAILY REMINDER

In The Day's News
Dr. Benjamin Tinkham Marshall, who is to be installed as president of the Connecticut College for Women, has long been prominent as a clergyman and educator. Born in Boston in 1872, Dr. Marshall was graduate from Dartmouth College with high honors in 1897. He made a similar record of scholarship at Union Theological Seminary when a resident of New York city, and during the same period he pursued a post-graduate course of study at Columbia University. Upon the completion of his studies at the theological seminary in 1900 he entered the Presbyterian ministry and during the ensuing twelve years he held pastorates at Scarborough, N. Y., and New Rochelle, N. Y. In 1912 he became professor of Biblical history and literature at Dartmouth College, which position he held until called to the presidency of the Connecticut institution some months ago.

EXEMPTION FOR 288 BALL PLAYERS IN 2 LEAGUES IS SOUGHT

Chicago, November 21—Exemption for 288 baseball players—eighteen from each of the sixteen clubs of the American and National leagues—will be asked of the government. It was announced tonight by President Johnson, of the American league, who declared that the high standard of the game would be destroyed as the players were indiscriminately drafted for military service.

President Johnson said the American league would willingly sacrifice the remaining players on its roster if the clubs were permitted to retain 18 selected men. As the player limit was twenty-five last season, seven men from each club would be available for military duty.

WELCOME

To the Big Corn and Tobacco Fair

When you come to the fair make this store your headquarters. Check your parcels here, use the phone, meet your friends, you can rest or write letters, it's a thoroughly homelike place.
If you need clothes, you'll find a "blue ribbon exhibit" at this store.

Hart, Schaffer and Marx models for fall are here. They are good, substantial clothes, made of all-wool fabrics. They will wear a long time and will keep their shape and look well. We guarantee these suits to satisfy you or we give your money back.
We have the very latest things too, in shoes, hats, underwear
—everything men wear.

But don't think you have to buy anything when you come to this store. We just want you to come in and make yourself at home. You will be at home here, because we are equipped to make it pleasant for you.

THE SLACKER

The following poem was written by Cook Benjamin L. Kenney, former
of this city:
We give you our service, you shut
our beer,
But the slacker can drink till it runs
out his ear.

We quit a good job to keep you from harm,
And the slacker goes by with a gun
on his arm.
And laughs at the soldier, poor, unlucky cuss;
You go with a slacker, why ostracise
us?

We are doing our duty, his liver is white,
Yet we leave the streets at eleven
each night;
While he sticks around as long as he cares,
And laughs at the soldier whenever
he cares.

Discipline, we know, is a thing that must be,
But honest to goodness, we fall
see—

When the soldier drinks nothing but
water and pop,
Why the drinks of a slacker can't
so be stopped.

If the slacker can dance, it seems rather hard
At all decent dances the uniform
barred.

You find in organizations men of all kind,
But we think the slackers are far behind.

In time of peace they are in their place,
But in time of war they are right
about face.

One consolation, we are tried and are true,
We left our homes and bid friends
adieu.

And if we are so lucky to ever get back,
We will sure make the slackers ball
the jack.

We have shouldered our rifle and
taken our place,
And we will go to our death with a smile on our face.

But this is our earnest appeal to you,
Until we pass over, please give us
our due.

TRIAL OF PRIVATE GEORGE KING
CLOSES

Camp Shelby, Miss., November 21.—
The trial of Private George King, of Company C, One Hundred and Fortieth
Infantry, from Georgetown, Ky., charged with the murder of Pol-
Sergeant Chris Kolhoven, at Newport, Ky., last July, was closed this afternoon with the conclusion of argument by attorneys for the defense and the Government before the general Court martial.

At the conclusion of the argument consideration of the testimony was begun by the officers of the Court martial. Tonight the findings of the body were sent to the War Department at Washington.

Lieutenant W. Clarke Otto and Lieutenant Logan Rock presented final argument for the defense, while Captain Keith W. Wise, Judge Advocate, argued for the Government.

PARCELS FOR SOLDIERS

Washington, November 21.—Reported to the Postoffice Department of the amount of parcel post matter going to the American army in France indicated that Americans there will enjoy a bountiful Christmas. The department announced tonight that it is practically certain that every package mailed before November 13 will reach its destination by Christmas morning, and possibly some mailed later will get there in time.

LEAVES SUNDAY

Mr. Alonso Sousslin, Man Who Lives
With a Broken Neck, To Depart
Sunday—Has Been Very Successful Here—Is Well Liked.

Mr. Alonso Sousslin, of Dayton, O., the man with the broken neck, who has been in this city for several days
selling the story of his life and pictures of himself in the strange harness that he wears at all times to keep his neck in place, leaves Sunday
for other points.

ALONZO SOUSSLIN

While in Maysville Mr. Sousslin has showed himself to be a perfect gentleman in every way and is liked by every one with whom he has come in contact. He has shown conclusively that no matter how much a person is handicapped it is possible to get along if one has grit and persever-ence.

It has been with pleasure that we have had the privilege several times of talking to Mr. Sousslin and the more we see of him the better we like him. In turn, he says that the newspaper men are his best friends, as they make his work easy, and always do what they can to make his visits pleasant. He is the personification of optimism and never worries about his great misfortune. He says that he is thankful that God has permitted him to live so that he can provide for his wife and child.

Mr. Sousslin says that the people of Maysville have been very kind to him and have welcomed him. The mayor threw open the gates of the city to him and the people of our city tried to make him feel at home. The merchants do not try to hide when he comes into their stores, but instead advance to meet him and show him
that they want to help him.

Mr. Sousslin is not a beggar. He is neat in appearance, he is sober and industrious, and he does not sit around on the dirty streets peddling pencils and shoe strings. He is simply selling the wonderful story of his life, which has been printed in some of the leading medical and scientific journals of the country. Everyone should read this story.

We bespeak for Mr. Sousslin's success wherever he may go.

WILL OF JOHN FLEMING POGUE
FILED

Cincinnati, Ohio, November 22.—
Under the will of Attorney John F.
Pogue, who died on his ranch in California, $25,000 is set aside, the income to go to his widow, Nell P.
Pogue, for life, she also to have the household effects. All the residue of his estate goes to his sons, Patterson and Francis W. Pogue. His office effects in the office of Pogue & Pogue
he gives to his brothers, Province M.
and Thomas L. Pogue. The will names his three brothers, Henry E.
Pogue, Maysville, Ky., and Thomas L. and Province Pogue, of this city, as executors. The will was dated January 8, 1912. The estate is estimated at $22,500 in this state, besides which he had his California ranch and his interest in the distilling business at Maysville, Ky.

AMERICAN TRANSPORTS HAVE
EXCITING VOYAGE

A French Port, November 22.—The latest American transports to reach here had an exciting trip through the submarine zone. The first night in the zone two transports collided. One was slightly damaged while the other had a small hole torn in her bow
and a few projecting guns damaged.
Temporary repairs were made and the ships proceeded.

The following night a submarine attacked the transports. The wake of a torpedo was seen off the bow of one of the vessels, but no conning tower or periscope was visible. The transports raced ahead and succeeded in reaching port safely, where the collision damage was repaired.

those abroad American warships that the Atlantic division today sent out an appeal to chapters in its jurisdiction to mobilize all the volunteer help
it can get in an effort to speed up work on sweaters, wristlets, mufflers, helmets and socks.

FOOD IS TIED UP

Cleveland, Ohio, November 22.—
More than four million pounds of potatoes and other perishable vegetables are said to be tied up in freight cars on the New York Central tracks in Cleveland, names of their consignors and consignees unknown to railroad officials.

Department of justice agents today
were investigating the food tie-up following a request from the railroad company. The mystery of the ownership of the vegetables led officials to inquire into the possibility of speculation on a gigantic scale.
